

Aftercare Instructions

Caring for after the permanent makeup tattoo removal correctly.

Within 24 hours it's really important to keep them completely dry. Please take a tissue press gently but firmly to remove it.

(you can buy at pharmacies or Amazon)

For the first 7 days apply a thin layer of antiseptic cream such as " Bepanthen First Aid cream " with cotton swabs every morning and night. And need to wipe off the old layer of the antiseptic cream with Saline or gentle make-up remover rinsed away and dry by gently patting with a tissue. before they apply a new layer of the antiseptic cream. (you need to keep the area dry at least 5-7 days.)

So please don't put water on your eyebrows for 5-7 days.

- Do not touch the procedure site during the healing process to avoid any bacterial infection.
- Do not apply makeup for a minimum of 24 hours after your treatment.
- Do not shave the tattoo area during the process. As it may lead scarring or infection
- After the procedure, your skin may be swelling is a normal reaction of the body. So don't panic swelling should go down within a few hours after tattoo removal.
- Avoid contact with your pet including petting, snuggling, being kissed, and sleeping in the same bed for at least 7 days. (because it can be infected.)

Individual results may vary.

The skin characteristics to change after tattoo removal

The next 3- 5 days, the skin will actually form a crust in that time the skin is preparing to push off that crust and the olds colors during that time the skin may get itchy.

- No workout, No pool, No sun, and No sauna for 5-7 days. I mean you are going to be sweating. they cause open wounds and infection is possible. Because this is exposure. So it's should not exposure.
- After 5-7 days, the little scabs start to come off, just let the scabs come off on their own.

After the skin peeling, you will see that the area is still white.

And it gonna disappear about within 2-4 weeks. That's a normal thing. Because will protect your skin from the Sun and prevent oxidizing.

For oily skin: white sun protection may peel off faster than dry skin types. After the skin is completely peeled off. In this case, it is advisable to apply a sun protection cream to that area every morning for at least 2-3 weeks.

How should I treat my removal tattoo now that it has healed?

Answer: It is recommended that you use sunblock SPF30 or higher in order to protect the skin. So as not to let the sunlight burn the tattooed removal area. Avoid facial peels, facial scrub, facial exfoliant.

Avoid any skincare that has the following ingredients.

- ▶ Retin A
- ▶ Vitamin A++
- ▶ Hyaluronic Acid
- ▶ Alpha Hydroxy Acid (AHA)
- ▶ Chemical Skin Peel

When applying these products just avoid the tattooed removal area.
